£300,000 funding boost for arts centre

by Lottie Welch
lottie@pemedia.co.uk

BRIDPORT Arts Centre has had a boost of more than £300,000 towards improvements to the building's facilities and sustainability.

Arts Council England awarded the popular venue £344,200 after the arts centre team applied in October for support to refurbish the foyer, bar and café space, upgrade the auditorium and stage areas as well as investing in technical equipment.

Bridport Arts Centre is a grade II listed historic building comprising a former Wesleyan chapel and school house dating from the early 19th century.

Some of the money will go towards essential upgrades such as secondary glazing for the fragile original windows, which date back to 1838.

The building will also be made more accessible with improvements including installing an automated front door, as well as a hearing loop at the box office.

Phil Gibby, area director, south west, Arts Council England, said: "This award will help

FORMER Woodroffe School student Billy Uppard, from Uplyme, is currently training and competing full-time with the Great British Snowboard Cross team in Hintertux, Austria.

After moving to Uplyme in 2008, the 19 year old was selected for Team GB last year and will be with them until the end of April, after which he is hoping to return next year to work towards the Winter Olympics 2018.

● HOW did you first get into snowboarding?
I studied at the Woodroffe School and this is probably where I mostly found my passion for sport, through the sports department and the head of PE Mr Snowling. I went on a family holiday when I was 16 and instantly picked up snowboarding, I then proceeded to do a season in Val d'Isere doing completing my basic snowboard instructor's qualifications. I have since done another season in France as a bartender so I could keep my snowboarding up.

I have always been very keen on sports and competed at national levels in water polo and had trials for Team GB in water polo!

● WHAT did you do before you joined Team GB?
I work as a beach lifeguard for the RNLI in the summer time, which is not always the relaxed work it comes across as! You have to keep very fit and always be very focused.

● HOW did you get selected for Team GB?
I received a phone call in August 2015 from the GB coach who had seen some videos of my boarding and asked if I wanted to join the team! I have my first race this month.

● WHAT's the training regime like?
When I got out here it was straight into intense training non-stop, going to the gym everyday after early 7am starts on the mountain for an eight hour day! I have since the start of season broken my wrist and torn my MCL and ACL so I have been out for a month but hoping to be back on snow for my first race in the Czeck Republic.

● WHAT do you hope to go on to do in the future?
The plan is to keep my training up by working hard and hopefully receiving support through sponsorship and funding, as it is not a cheap thing to do. I feel like I have a good shot at making it to 2018 Olympics in PyeongChang and proving that I wasn't just a guy that dropped out from school early and had no idea!

Long-term I want to start my own business and start setting up snowboard camps for kids and adults all over England and possibly the world, and opening my own ski school in the mountains, probably in Austria on the Hintertux glacier.

Green light for community housing scheme

by Lottie Welch
lottie@pemedia.co.uk

PLANS to build 34 community-led homes has been given the green light by planners after 18 months.

Members of Bridport Cohousing Community Land Trust expressed their delight at being granted planning permission for their scheme - which was discussed at West Dorset District Council's development control committee - to be built on land west of Bridport Community Hospital at Mead Lane.

The 34 houses would consist of a mix of one, two, three and four bedroom homes with eight one bed flats also being proposed. A condition of the approval is that 35 per cent must be affordable.

Twelve of the 34 homes will be available through Dorset Home Choice housing register at www.dorsethomechoice.org. The scheme will also include a central village green and communal growing spaces.

The group have received funding from the Homes and Communities Agency and West Dorset District Council, along with money from Bridport Cohousing members and support from Locality, a national network of community-led organisations.

Member Jane Saunders said: "Most of all we want to thank the people of Bridport for the wonderful local support for this community-led project."

They are still recruiting new members who are local and interested in buying a shared ownership home at 80 per cent of open market value. The group can be contacted through their website at www.bridportcohousing.org.uk or by email info@bridportcohousing.org.uk or by phone on 07907 933587.

Bridport councillor Ros Kayes said: "This excellent project represents real potential for affordable housing in Bridport where we have such a dearth of affordable units. The cohousing group deserves congratulations for their perseverance.

"The design is really fitting in the location and they have done a lot of work to make it so. Facilities on the site will be made available to the whole community.

"I really hope this is the first of many such projects in West Dorset."

Arts centre funding is secured but more needed

Bridport Arts Centre carry out essential work as well as modernising their facilities and make the building more sustainable.

"By investing £344,200 through our National Lottery funded capital programme, we are helping to secure a more resilient future for the organisation and access to high quality arts experiences for Bridport."

Although this windfall of money is a great achievement for the arts centre, there is still much more to raise.

A condition of the Arts Council's investment is that £230,000 is needed to match their contribution.

Bridport Arts Centre has already secured £100,000 but there is still some way to go to raise funds to deliver the programme of works.

Director Laura Cockett said: "We are delighted to receive this investment from the Arts Council, however, we still have to secure all of the matched funding required and will be launching the final push to secure the remaining monies.

"There will be a public appeal soon to let people know how they can support this exciting chapter in Bridport Arts Centre's history."

Full details on improvements will be provided to the public as the plans are finalised, but it is anticipated the café and gallery will close from mid- June, with events in the theatre unaffected until the end of July with the whole building closed for August.

Barry Bates, chair of the arts centre trustees, said: "This is a marvellous success for Bridport Arts Centre. We will be able to offer our users a much improved experience from the new foyer, café and bar to the revamped Marlow Theatre.

"The decision by Arts Council England is a recognition at national level of the great potential of the arts centre and our track record of offering excellent and varied arts experiences.

"Congratulations are due to our director Laura Cockett who has worked so hard to write the submission, and thanks to fellow trustee Robert Wheelwright whose work on the designs and plans has been so invaluable."

Bridport Arts Centre's planning application to West Dorset District Council and their plans for the building can be found on www.dorsetforyou.com

Coastguard warning following cliff fall

WEST Bay Coastguards are issuing safety advice when walking along the coast after another cliff fall in the area.

Officers were called to a cliff fall at Seatown, around 300 metres to the east of the car park, on Friday afternoon (February 12th) just after 3.30pm by Solent Coastguard.

Six rescue officers from the West Bay team attended, including the station manager and representatives from the National Trust.

The most recent cliff fall follows those at West Bay and Burton Bradstock in January and December.

A spokesperson from West Bay Coastguard said: "Solent Coastguard wanted officers to investigate the fall, check the cliffs and assess any impact to public safety.

"Officers inspected the fall and sent photographs and grid references back to Solent Coastguard who then stood the team down to return to the station.

"Our coastline is an ever changing environment. Coastal erosion, cliff falls and landslides are a natural part of this and members of the public should be vigilant.

"Never walk under cliffs, stay away from the cliff edge when walking on the coastal path and always keep your dog on a lead.

"Do not climb on cliff falls as the rocks and debris may be unstable and cause injury and as in this case, may contain a lot of mud and clay which could cause your dog to become trapped."

Group criticised for trying to prevent referendum

by Lottie Welch
lottie@pemedia.co.uk

A FORMER West Dorset councillor has questioned whether thousands of residents have been misled by Public First's campaign on the future governance of West Dorset District Council.

At a meeting of Public First in Bridport last week, Chris Loder, who supports the democratic objective, raised his concerns and said it was wrong for the group to now attempt to prevent a referendum, in what he says is "the direct opposite of the mandate".

The claim came after the group collected more than 6,000 signatures from West Dorset residents to have a committees system at WDDC, rather than the current Cabinet.

The campaign triggered a referendum, which will cost £95,000, but the group called on the council to instead change voluntarily without having the referendum.

Mr Loder said: "It is beginning to look as though thousands of West Dorset people have been misled because of the lobby group's attempts to prevent a democratic referendum from taking place, despite the declared mandate to achieve a referendum.

"What is otherwise good democratic engagement risks now being brought into disrepute."

But Clive Stafford Smith, chair of Public First, said the "democratically responsible" thing for the council to do was to have changed many months ago.

He said: "I wrote to Mr Alford and his colleagues, as our democratically elected officials, suggesting that they should themselves take the temperature of the electorate to see what people wanted.

"If, as I suspect, they found that a large majority wanted change, then they would only be doing the democratic thing by changing and saving £95,000. If, on the other hand, they found it to be a close issue, then by all means go ahead with the referendum.

"The simple truth is that they should have done this many months ago when we originally approached them in an effort to avert the lengthy process of collecting 6,115 signatures and forcing a referendum. That would have been the democratically responsible thing to do.

"They ignored us then and they have ignored us since, so it is ultimately entirely at the door of the council – and perhaps an illustration of why we need to change the process, in order to encourage them to be more responsive to their electorate."

Speed camera set alight

POLICE officers are investigating an arson attack on a speed camera in Chideock.

Emergency services were called at around 2am on Saturday morning (February 13th) to reports of a speed camera on fire on the A35.

Dorset Police are looking in to as it is thought the fire was started deliberately, although no arrests have yet been made.

Pool to remain open for another year thanks to last minute funding

by Lottie Welch

BRIDPORT councillors and residents, along with members of the Bridport and West Dorset Sports Trust, have welcomed the news that the town's swimming pool will remain open for another year thanks to a grant of £176,246.

West Dorset District Council's executive committee agreed the funding at a meeting last week to keep the leisure centre open until April 2017.

The grant is an extension of the current supplemental agreement, which will expire on March 31st.

Ros Kayes, Bridport town, district and county councillor, said: "It is good to see that the swimming pool has been given 12 months grace in order to come up with funding proposals to maintain the swimming pool, and I hope that the working party of councillors will come up with some positive ideas to support them in keeping it open long term.

"This is a great achievement compared to where we were in December, with trustees clearly feeling there was no option other than to close the pool, and I would like to thank the executive at WDDC for taking the decision to keep funding it while a solution is found.

"I would also like to thank the 1,500 people who have signed the petition, the hundreds of people who have written letters of support for the centre, including schools and especially the Year Four pupils at Bridport Primary School who also made an excellent film about the possible loss of the pool, as well as the GPs at the medical centre who expressed their support for the campaign.

"Few issues have created such a sense of outrage from all sections of the community and I would like to thank those who have made our job as councillor easier by throwing their weight into the campaign."

The trust was informed last November that funding for the swimming pool would be cut, even though it was agreed the district council would cover the deficit when the pool was built.

For 2015/16 the council paid £174,848 towards the pool, with the centre annually contributing around £74,000.

But WDDC announced funding would be cut by £50,000 for four years, after which they would received no funding.

Gillian Summers, a member of the Bridport and West Dorset Sports Trust, said: "We have been aware that the council would have to review all the funding they provide for leisure and tourism in West Dorset, and have asked them many times to keep us informed, but it was not until November 2015 that the trust was told that funding would be cut dramatically for the next four years, and would reduce thereafter to zero eventually.

"This was a dreadful shock to the directors, as we would need at least a year to make applications to other funders and instigate any changes necessary to keep the whole operation running.

"This is why we asked the district council to continue with the same level of funding for the forthcoming year. Thereafter the funding will probably be gradually reduced, but at least we will have had a year's notice and we can enter into discussions with the council's officers and members.

"The directors of the trust are extremely relieved that the council are able to support them for the coming year, but have a lot of work to do to bring in the money needed to keep the pool open in the future."

BRIDPORT and Beaminster town criers, John Collingwood (fourth right) and David Craner (left) have helped set the new world record for the largest town cry

THE town criers of Bridport and Beaminster have cried their way into the Guinness Book of Records.

John Collingwood of Bridport and David Craner of Beaminster, who is also the town crier for Seaton and Crewkerne, came together at The Swanage School with students, teachers and other town criers, to achieve the Guinness World Record for the largest town cry.

The previous record, held by Dorchester Town Promotion Campaign, was for 280 participants in 2008, of which Mr Craner was involved.

This time, the record was closely broken by 281 people thanks to extra volunteer Rachael Aplin from The Royal Oak pub.

The idea was that of Swanage town crier and current south of England champion, Andrew Flemming, whose son attends The Swanage School, as he mentioned it to staff and parents.

He gathered eight other members of the town crier circuit, including Alistair Chisholm from Dorchester, 2015 national champion Marilyn Masters and her partner Ken Knowles from Lichfield, Peter White from Seaford and Chris Brown from Wimborne, who all gave their own unique 'oyez' before the record attempt.

Tristram Hobson, headteacher at The Swannage School, said: "The Swanage School students and staff were delighted to take part in a new world record attempt for the largest number of people to carry out a simultaneous 'Cry'.

"Whilst it was a chance to have a bit of fun on a Friday afternoon, it was also a chance to reflect on our shared heritage.

"Despite being a small school with only 270 students on roll, we were able to create a lot of noise in our record-breaking cry which celebrated the Swanage community."

Scaffolding company fined £10,000 following roof fall

HEALTH and safety bosses have called on businesses in West Dorset to check their safety procedures this week after a local workman fell through a roof light.

The safety warnings came after Weymouth magistrates court fined Weller Scaffolding Ltd of Bridport £10,000, with £5,628 costs, following the incident at a small industrial unit at East Road, Bridport, in July 2014.

The court heard how Weller Scaffolding had been contracted to erect scaffold and perimeter handrails around the roof of the unit.

An employee accessed the roof but fell through, suffering three fractures to his face, breaks in his left arm and wrist and dislocated fingers.

An investigation by the Health and Safety Executive (HSE) found the incident was due to the work not being properly planned, or appropriately supervised which led to it being unsafe.

Leakers has flour power

BRIDPORT'S very own Leakers Bakery has been named as one of the top 20 British Bakeries by the Independent.

The publication named the independent bakery, which is family run and been supplying Bridport with baked goods for more than 100 years, in their 'Flour Power: Britain's 20 best bakeries' list.

Jemima Dasent, of Leakers Bakery, said: "It was a really nice surprise to get recognition from a national newspaper, as we are independent, we really value the recognition. We are delighted and in really good company

"We are a small team here but have won a couple of great taste awards for our five seeded malted sourdough and crusty country white.

"We are really chuffed and very proud of our bakery team, who hand bake everything on the premises, you wouldn't think it looking at our little shop but there is a kitchen in the back.

"The thing about Bridport is it is a fantastic food town and a great place to be."

Greens host housing meeting

LOCAL housing needs will be the subject at the next public meeting organised by local Green Party members.

The meeting will take place on Wednesday, February 24th at the WI Hall in North Street, Bridport, at 7.30pm.

Kelvin Clayton, chair of West and South Dorset Green Party and a Bridport Town Councillor, said: "Our aim is to promote democracy and open discussion on important issues. Other local political parties have been invited to outline their own policies before we move to an open chaired debate."

The meeting will start with a talk on the issues surrounding social housing by David Aldwinckle, a director of Magna Housing Association.

Fellow Green Party town councillor Julian Jones said: "Housing is a basic necessity of life but, due to greed, speculation and misguided government policies, a necessity that those on average and below average incomes are increasingly finding difficult to meet, either through buying or renting."

lottie@pemedia.co.uk

BRIDPORT Evangelical Church is this year's charity to benefit from the Royal Antediluvian Order of The Buffalo's (RAOB) annual cheque giving.

The church, situated on Priory Lane, received £200 from the group to help with the good work they do in the community.

A spokesperson for the RAOB said: "The RAOB is one of the oldest charity orders in Bridport.

"Each year as part of their charity work, the Star of Dorset Lodge No 1158, gives a cheque or cheques to Bridport organisations as part of their commitment to helping local charities.

"The year the Bridport Evangelical Church was chosen to receive £200."

Bridport Evangelical Church is under the Pastoral team of Michelle and Simon Dumper who say the money will help with many new projects they would like to start.

Mrs Dumper said: "We have been pastors of the church for over a year now, our hearts are for giving and we like to think we help people in need.

"People in Bridport and Beaminster have been so generous so we have been able to help lots of families with allsorts, from clothes to household goods, we also help people with addiction. We do hospital visits and pray, also support people who are passing over.

"This cheque means so much. We run a toddler group and we are about to open Angels Attic, a second hand shop where people can come and get clothing, furniture, electrical goods and if they want to make a donation they can. We are also opening a café called 'He Brews' so people can get a meal.

"The money will help the toddler staff in getting their paediatric first aid and get our environmental health certificate to open up our kitchen.

"Two nights a week we want to offer hot meals for the homeless and have a hot shower room.

"We have washing facilities where we wash their clothes and give them clean ones.

"We couldn't have done it without the community but we do need more donations and we hope to get the shop and café open in March."

The Star of Dorset Lodge No 1158 meet every other Thursday at 8pm at the Lord Nelson pub on East Street, Bridport.

The Star of Dorset Lodge would like to thank Alan, the landlord of the Lord Nelson Pub, and his staff for their continued support and help.

JOLLYON Carter and Radhika Mohendas of Dorshi are opening a new East Asian restaurant in Bridport next month

East Asian cuisine with a Dorset twist at soon-to-open Bridport restaurant

A NEW and totally unique restaurant will be opening their doors in Bridport next month, offering the town a local twist on Asian cuisine.

Award-wining street food caterer's Dorshi has set up camp in Bartholomews Hall down Chancery Lane in Bridport's town centre and will preparing their re-creations of East Asian food for customers in March.

Dorshi is made up of long term friends Jollyon Carter and Radhika Mohendas who have traversed much of the UK, selling their handmade dumplings, hand-pulled noodles, salads & sauces at street food markets, music festivals and restaurant residencies.

Along the way winning awards and recognition for their distinct use of local produce and unusual flavours.

So far, Dorset has only been privy to their dishes at a handful of outdoor events and adventurous supper clubs held in conjunction with their long-time collaborators: Comins Tea House in Sturminster Newton.

The self-taught chefs bring their re-creations of East Asian food to the new Bridport restaurant in the form of a seasonal, sharing plates menu alongside a number of carefully selected fine loose-leaf teas, wine, beer and drinks.

Jollyon who, having lived abroad for many years, permanently moved back to Bridport in 2011, said: "For us, Dorshi was born from craving the ubiquitous noodle or dumpling joints abundant in our previous lives."

Through their mutual love of weird, wonderful and honest food, they taught themselves to cook, adapt and create recipes in their spare time.

Jollyon added: "The challenge we set ourselves from early on was to not only recreate dishes that were commonplace across many East Asian countries, but to re-imagine and attempt to fully exploit the flavour profiles of local, British ingredients.

"Working backwards, we started to find an abundance of little-known plants & herbs, thoughtful, passionate producers and suppliers who had the same slow-movement ethos as us."

To sample their exciting new menu, Dorshi are hosting four supper club evenings from the 2nd to the 5th of March 2016. There are a limited number of seats available at a one-off introductory offer. For more details about Dorshi, visit their Facebook page http://facebook.com/eatdorshi where there is a link to book for the up-coming supper club. Details are also available on their website http://dorshi.co.uk. Or follow their more candid food adventures, findings and musings on twitter and instagram @eatdorshi.

From March 9th, Dorshi @ Bartholomews Hall will be open to the public Wednesday to Friday 11am to 10pm, serving lunch, afternoon tea and dinner, and serving brunch on weekends from 11am to 3pm and dinner from 6-10pm. Contact dorshicatering@gmail.com

Stress reduction workshops at Symondsbury

STRESS reduction workshops are will be taking place in Symondsbury to help people take control of their thoughts.

Local man Phil Lunt will be delivering the workshops, Responding instead of Reacting, with mental health nurse Lucy Watkinson, of Grow Again – which offers therapy and mindfulness training – after using mindfulness to recover from ME.

He was diagnosed with chronic fatigue syndrome four years ago and the qualified teacher of Chemistry found the answers to his recovery from his condition in mindfulness, neuroscience and psychology.

Mr Lunt has dedicated the last four years of his life writing a book on his experiences which gives an insight into stress, anxiety and worry.

He is now working closely with Lucy Watkinson to deliver stress awareness training in secondary schools and deliver workshops in areas such as responding instead of reacting, building stress resilience and mindfulness in the workplace.

Lucy Watkinson said: "The popular responding workshop covers learning how to take control of your thoughts and actions when your emotions get the better of you.

"This three hour workshop will give you the scientific knowledge and practice skills necessary to make long term personal changes. These changes will result in your mastery of reactive anger.

"This workshop will introduce skills to be able to respond to difficult situations with a calm and reasonable mind. By continuing the skills and practice from this workshop, a calm and reasonable mind will become second nature.

"The workshop will include guided practice in mindfulness techniques and other ways in which to turn off our stress reaction."

The next Responding instead of Reacting workshop takes place on Thursday, March 3rd from 6pm to 9pm at The Old Rectory in Symondsbury.

The same workshop is also being delivered on march 22nd from 9.30am to 12.30pm.

Musical Dick Whittington was 'one of the best'

THE cast singing Easy Street

THE Bridport Pantomime Players took over the Electric Palace to blow the audience away with this year's show, Dick Whittington.

One audience member, Abbi Lister said: "Our whole family thoroughly enjoyed this year's performance, some family travelling from Wareham and Wool just to see it.

"The casting was fantastic and our favourite was Jess Ives as Sarah Suet, her stage presence was amazing, as well as our little ones Ellie and Meagan whom we adore watching on stage.

"Meagan's favourite scene – other than the sweet throwing! – was the UV underwater scene.

"We also thought that Sarah portrayed Tommy the Cat fantastically!

"Overall one of the best pantomimes we have seen in the recent years. Well done to all involved."

Someone else said it was like watching Dick Whittington the musical.

Other audiences commented on how fantastic the musical numbers were, in particular the UV scene, Easy Street and Anything Can Happen.

It was also commented on that even though it was long, it was very slick and they enjoyed every element. Also Someday sung by Dick was a real tear jerker!

Next year's pantomime will be Red Riding Hood.

CAST: Amy Wheatley – Dick Whittington; Sarah Pitcher – Tommy the Cat; Laura Gray – Alice; Greg Horton – Alderman Fitzwarren; Teresa Grinter – King Rat; Sue Farrant and Hattie Amos – sailors Cod and Skate; Jess Ives – Dame Sarah Suet; Emily Shoemark – Idle Jack; Sarah Light and Jo Aisthorpe – Sultan and his Wazir; and Alice Tuck – Fairy Bow-Bells.

Local Rotarian to help vaccinate children against polio

A BRIDPORT Rotarian will be joining the fight against polio in India as he returns to the country later this month to support National Immunisation Day.

Clive Bath, a member of Bridport Rotary Club, will join a group of 106 volunteers across Great Britain and Ireland to travel to the most at-risk areas of India to immunise thousands of children against polio.

Although the country was declared free from the disease in 2014, there is still a risk of reinfection from cases found in nearby Pakistan so high levels of immunisation are being maintained.

Mr Bath, who will be travelling to India with the project for the fourth time, said: "It is incredible to think that since making the pledge in 1985 to eradicate polio, Rotarians have pulled together to combat the disease all over the world.

"Travelling to India and working with fellow Rotarians illustrates how important it is to be involved in community projects that are not just on your doorstep."

The aim of this year's National Immunisation Day – which takes place on Sunday, February 21st – is to vaccinate over 172 million children under the age of five, nearly three times the size of the UK population.

In order to do so, the Rotary office in Dehli has allocated five locations where the international Rotarian volunteers will be placed to assist the local rotary members.

The immunisation, which is administered by two simple drops on the tongue, can be carried out easily by someone with no medical experience.

The Rotary hopes to continue to send out volunteers in the coming yars until this type of immunisation is replaced with an injection, a procedure that would require medically trained personnel.

Mr Bath added: "It is important that we don't lose momentum if we are going to beat this disease, and the large group of Rotarians travelling out this year illustrates that we are still passionate as ever.

"If you want to make a difference, you could join your local rotary club or donate."

To donate to End Polio Now or to join Rotary International in Great Britain and Ireland, visit www.rotarygbi.org

New gulls poster for West Bay

MEMBERS of the West Bay Community Forum (WBCF) have created new posters, pictured, to deter residents and visitors from feeding the seagulls at West Bay.

A spokesperson for WBCF said: "The idea is to prompt visitors and locals alike to use proper refuse receptacles. Following the spate of gull attacks reported along the south coast last year, and the rather bland posters telling people not to feed the gulls, the forum thought a more pictorial approach might help with the problem.

"The slogan came from Joan Bolton, one of the forum members, and the campaign is part of the WBCF initiatives."

Bridport Christmas Tree Festival boosts life-saving charity

THE Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance has had a boost of over £1,000 from the team at Bridport United Church.

The church's annual Christmas Tree Festival raised £1,430.50 for the charity which was presented to volunteers last week.

The Reverend Peter Clark said: "It is a huge privilege to host the Christmas Tree Festival. We have a wonderful community in Bridport and over 7,000 people came through the doors and supported the charities.

"We are delighted the people of Bridport managed to raise such a good total. It is a lovely event."

The Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance's operational costs per year are over £2million and the approximate cost per mission equates to £2,500, so every donation helps.

Tracy Bartram, Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance communications manager, said: "A really big thank you to the Bridport United Church and everyone who helped raise the funds from last year's Christmas Tree Festival.

"What an incredible amount to have raised for our cause and we are truly grateful. The event is extremely special to many of us at the charity.

"Seeing the wonderful array of Christmas trees on display is spectacular to see. Every year the trees seem to get better and better, each one being decorated with love and care.

"It is simply a brilliant way of bringing joy to people's lives and raising money for great causes at the same time."

Seatown and Chideock residents: have your say on regeneration

RESIDENTS of Chideock and Seatown are being reminded to have their say on the Seatown Regeneration Project.

A meeting was held for those interested in the government-funded Coastal Revival Scheme to hear an update of the project that aims to find solutions to problems, identified by residents, which have got worse due to an increased number of storms and traffic making access to Seatown frustrating.

Over 20 residents joined 21 landowners and stakeholders for a presentation which included a brief history of the funding bid and research carried out so far on some of the problems.

These included safer access, car parking improvements including provision for the disabled, and clearer, effective signage.

Questions, concerns and comments were invited from those present, which led to a lively discussion and many points were noted by the team for further research.

Another meeting has been arranged for Saturday, March 12th at 11am in the village hall.

Due to a tight deadline for submitting a feasibility study, further comments can only be considered before March 5th.

Suggestion boxes will reappear in the village shop, The George Inn and the Anchor Inn, or email chideocksociety@gmail.com

Dorset cooks wanted for new Channel 4 show

BUDDING chefs and food fanatics are being sought in Dorset to take part in a brand new Channel Four series.

The broadcaster is set to uncover Britain's most talented home cooks, having commissioned My Kitchen Rules UK from 7Wonder Productions, in a nationwide search to find the best amateur cooking enthusiast in the UK, with a big emphasis on regional pride and local produce.

In the competitive elimination show, cooking duos will create pop-up restaurants in their homes for the judges and rival contestants to savour.

Executive producer Eve Kay said: "Pop-up restaurants are the latest addition to the UK's ongoing food revolution and a brilliant way for amateur chefs to show off their cooking skills and passion for food.

"An entertaining national competition pitching different regions against each other will bring out the best in British food and should discover exciting new food talent."

Producers are looking for applicants in the Dorset area to proudly represent the region and be in the running for the £10,000 prize.

The series will be hosted by well-known Welsh presenter Steve Jones and is based on Australia's My Kitchen Rules.

Mr Jones said: "This show is about real people making really great food, showcasing the very best of regional produce and pride in local dishes.

"Britain has got such a rich and diverse food heritage and I can't wait to get my teeth into it."

The 30 part series has been commissioned by Syeda Irtizaali, commissioning editor of entertainment at Channel Four and is set to air later this year.

On the commission, Syeda Irtizaali said: "We are delighted to be bringing our own distinct version of this highly successful Australian series to Channel Four with the brilliant Steve Jones at the helm, alongside top chef names.

"My Kitchen Rules UK will inject real glamour, entertainment and competitive edge into the world of Britain's greatest home chefs as we ask, could you take the pressure of transforming your home into a five star restaurant for the night?"

LOOK GOOD FEEL GREAT

Lyme Bay Dentistry

CAN you imagine what it would be to live your life with no self-esteem because you've lost all your teeth and consequently the ability to eat properly?

We often see patients who struggle so much with a denture that when they bite into any food it rocked so much they haven't eaten a proper meal for years.

Fortunately, help is at hand. Dr Phil Bennett, past president of the Association of Dental Implantology UK, has more than 3,000 implants cases, from a single missing tooth to full mouth reconstructions, his before and after treatment pictures are amazing.

Phil is based at Lyme Bay Dentistry where he has been practice for over 12 years.

Rebuilding people's mouths is really about rebuilding their lives and Phil has the ability to give someone back their confidence and change the way they live their life for the better. His ability to change people's lives is no exaggeration.

This isn't to say that dental implants are 'must have' treatment for everyone who enquires, Phil is selective about patients who he offers a treatment plan to, but for those who are suitable candidates, more than 96 per cent of them will say yes to treatment and 100 per cent of them will testify to his work.

If you are considering implants, consider Dr Phil Bennett. Visit our website www.LymeBay-Dentistry.co.uk or give us a call 01297 442907

LOOK GOOD FEEL GREAT

Homoeopathy
Pamela Rowlands

HOMOEOPATHY is powerful because it addresses not only the physical symptoms but also the mental and emotional. When the appropriate homoeopathic remedy is given, patients often feel much better and happier, as well as their symptoms receding.

For Homoeopathy to be effective the remedies must be given according to homoeopathic principles. My understanding is that all expressions, physical, mental, emotional and spiritual carry a message, a sensation, which is repeated in everything you say. This gives me the information I need to prescribe the most similar remedy to all your symptoms. In Homoeopathy we call this "like cures like"

The healing journey is a gradual one, the remedies are designed to give the body a nudge, the healing process begins and they begin to heal the whole person.

Your appointment with me

Your first appointment can last for up to two hours and follow-ups are initially a month apart for about ¾ hour. I need to have a thorough understanding of you and the symptoms you are experiencing in order to find the most similar remedy. I shall then consider your experience and prescribe on the symptoms you have given me.

I am fully registered and insured with the Society of Homeopaths and practice according to the Society of Homeopath's code of ethics

Homeopathy
Helena Malekin

A GOOD homeopathic prescription relies on finding a "totality" or as complete a picture of the patient as possible - matching the symptoms and the person to the remedy. We are all after all unique – and we change.

It is my job to really listen to a patient and I try to provide an environment where people feel "safe" and supported. Unlike mainstream medicine, homeopathy does not focus on specific named diseases or diagnoses - these must always be obtained from your doctor – but looks at the whole person in a holistic way. Every one of us experiences our pain differently and often the trigger to the history of our 'disease' is as different as our life paths.

Through each homeopathy consultation, I am looking for patients to become increasingly self-reliant, self-aware and to find life easier on all levels with a concomitant shift in their physical emotional and mental symptoms. Some people are "on a journey" and will check in occasionally as and when issues arise, or more regularly to support their growth. Others will visit when they have physical symptoms and a crisis arises.

The first thing I always stress about homeopathy is that it is truly holistic, matching the remedy to us as whole human beings, rather than prescribing on physical symptom alone or disease labels. Physical symptoms are, of course, very important but the homeopath is interested in how the symptoms are experienced on an individual basis, working gently and with the body to support our own immune and energy system and stimulate it to heal itself.

Yoga with Nadiya

Monthly Restorative Yoga & Yoga Nidra Sunday Sessions

THESE sessions provide a warm and cosy space for you to take some time out from daily life to relax and replenish. Warming the body with breath awareness and a gentle yoga flow, we follow this by moving slowly through restorative and supported postures to nourish the body and mind, preparing it for meditation. This slower pace encourages your nervous system to re-balance, leaving a sense of calm and a feeling of rejuvenation. These longer held supported poses create space for a deeper experience of the pose and the breath. The guided Yoga Nidra also known as yogic sleep or sleep with awareness, encourages a deep state of relaxation and awareness of self. By withdrawing from the distractions of the mind, your focus becomes inward and you are no longer distracted by your environment. This enables the mind to fully relax, encouraging complete physical, mental and emotional relaxation. Regular practice complements a busy lifestyle, intense workouts, and stronger yoga practice; helping you to achieve and maintain a balanced lifestyle and optimal health. For further information or to book, please contact Nadiya on info@yogawithnadiya.co.uk or 07800712998.

Revived country pub is named best in the area

A LOCAL country pub has had a remarkable revival and been named the best in West Dorset as it came up top as the Campaign for Real Ale's (CAMRA) pub of the year.

The Bottle Inn at Marshwood was recognised last Saturday, when it was chosen for the second time, and the award was presented to landlords Nigel and Chrissy Blake at the annual Beerex Festival in Dorchester.

Around four years ago, The Bottle Inn, which is more than 400 years old, was empty and partially derelict and looked as though it would remain permanently closed.

It first closed in 2008 when the longstanding landlord Shane Pym, who established the famous world nettle eating championships which takes place at the Bottle Inn every summer, decided to give it up after revenues had dwindled and urgent expensive repair work. Two further attempts to revive the pub failed.

Mr and Mrs Blake sold a property in Weymouth and invested much of their money into saving The Bottle Inn.

Mr Blake said: "From the start we have set out to support small local breweries and this has paid off.

"Every weekend we aim to have at least seven different real ales on sale and we now regularly attract CAMRA members from many parts of Dorset, Devon and Cornwall.

"We first won the title of West Dorset's pub of the year in 2014 and we are gobsmacked to have been chosen again."

The couple want to secure their long term future at The Bottle Inn but they have not yet managed to agree with the owners, who live in Australia, for a long term lease.

Worries that The Bottle Inn could close again has led to 130 of the pub's regulars forming the supporters Association of The Bottle Inn.

The association has managed to get agreement from West Dorset District Council for the building to be registered as an asset of community value and some of its members are working with Mr and Mrs Blake to try and buy the pub in order for its future to be guaranteed.

Noodles of fun at Mountjoy

LOCAL chef and BBC MasterChef winner, Mat Follas cooked up a storm at Mountjoy School as he went to celebrate Chinese New Year with the students.

Mr Follas, who owned The Wild Garlic in Beaminster, cooked noodles with the children to demonstrate the different aromas of Chinese cuisine.

Mat Follas, who won BBC MasterChef in 2009, said: "It is wonderful to visit the children.

"We cooked noodles with lots of lovely savoury flavours and aromas like sesame, soy sauce and garlic. The children loved tasting the different flavours – it was brilliant fun."

The students then enjoyed a day of celebrations which also included decorating cakes with monkey faces to mark the year of the monkey.

Davina Pennels, Maple Class teaching assistant, said: "The children have learnt so much.

"There was something for everyone, whether it was food, dance or art, all the children were able to get involved and enjoy the day."

Mountjoy School caters for children with a range of complex needs including Autistic Spectrum Disorders and moderate to severe learning difficulties.

Headteacher Jackie Shanks said: "It is great for the children to have the opportunity to learn about different cultures and religions.

"It broadens their horizons and introduces them to, what is for some, a completely new experience."

PUPILS at Bridport Primary School took part in a national event to sing and sign a song at the same time in aid of deaf health charity SignHealth

Pupils take part in Sign2Sing

TECHNICAL difficulties couldn't stop the children at Bridport Primary School taking part in a national event last week as the whole school sung their hearts out acapella.

The school were taking part in Sign2Sing, an annual event in which schools and groups up and down the country all sing a song while signing the words.

The event is organised by SignHealth, a deaf health charity, to help raise funds for deaf children and promote deaf awareness.

But the group experienced technical problems when it came to record themselves taking part and had to sing and sign the song without music.

Staff member Beccy Rumens, who help organise the event at the school, said: "We have taken part in this event before for a few years and it is amazing how easily the children pick it up and adapt while they are singing.

"They are given a real understanding of how words can be spoken in different ways such as sign, which is great as we have some children here at school who are hard of hearing.

"We are very proud of the children, they are an amazing group."

Dorset Police rated 'good' at treating people fairly

DORSET Police have welcomed a report grading them 'good' at treating people fairly.

The report is part of HM Inspectorate of Constabulary's (HMIC) police effectiveness, efficiency and legitimacy, or PEEL, inspections.

It assessed the culture within Dorset Police, as well as public engagement, use of tasters and compliance with the Best Use of Stop and Search scheme.

The inspectorate found that there was a recognised ethical culture and an inclusive workforce within the force.

It was also acknowledged that Dorset Police had successfully made officers and staff aware of the need for ethical behaviour, embracing the national policing code of ethics.

The report also stated that officers and staff engage well, fairly and without bias with Dorset communities.

James Vaughan, Dorset Police deputy chief constable, said: "We very much welcome the HMIC's good grading and I am pleased that our efforts are being view positively.

"I am proud to work alongside officers and staff who are dedicated to serving the public. We also receive outstanding support from a large number of volunteers in a wide range of policing activities, which is a very valuable way of engaging closely with our communities.

"The force is always keen to listen to public concerns and with our engagement campaign, 'Your Dorset, Your Police, Your View', we continue to offer our communities the chance to get personally involved in shaping Dorset Police's priorities for the future.

"We are pleased that the HMIC found Dorset Police is complying with almost all of the features in the Best Use of Stop and Search scheme.

"However, we are not complacent and will certainly look at the recommendations, striving to improve our working practices further."

The HMIC report noted that Dorset Police looks after the wellbeing of its officers and staff, investing in a range of effective occupational health services.

The report also concentrated on the use of taser, recognising that this tactic is used fairly and appropriately.

Martyn Underhill, Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner, said: "The areas covered in this report are at the very heart of policing by consent.

"When the police use force or invoke the power to stop and search, their actions must be proportionate and transparent.

"I have done a lot of work locally and nationally in this arena and I am pleased that Dorset officers have been recognised for their consistent good practice.

"I am currently working nationally with the Home Office and others to introduce a standard approach across all forces in relation to the use of force and the way that force is recorded. This will increase transparency and scrutiny in a crucial area of public concern.

"I am also pleased about the findings in relation the wellbeing of officers and staff – this is a key area for myself and the chief constable.

"Policing is a traumatic arena and we must invest in looking after our staff."

Dorset families urged to visit libraries

A NATIONAL charity and Dorset County Council are encouraging more families to visit libraries.

The council has teamed up with Book Trust, the largest reading charity in the UK, to pilot a free sticker story book for young children in 11 libraries across the county, including Bridport and Dorchester.

The book, called 'Bear's Reading Adventure', was written and produced by children's reading charity Book Trust in partnership with Igloo Books.

The story follows Book Trust's blue bear mascot on his reading adventure, which takes him to the park, supermarket and the library.

However, there are 10 objects missing from bear's adventure which children are tasked with finding.

They will earn a sticker of the missing object every time they go to the library, which Book Trust hopes will encourage families to visit regularly and read together every day.

Councillor Colin Jamieson, council cabinet member for economy and growth, said: "Libraries are a wonderful resource for everyone. We are very fortunate to be able to pilot 'Bear's Reading Adventure' at several Dorset libraries.

"Families who have young children will get a free sticker story book on their next visit – limited resources available – a great incentive and a fun way to encourage regular library visits!"

When children have collected all 10 stickers, they can download a certificate from www.booksstart.org.uk/bearsadventure which also contains more tips for families on how they can have fun reading together every day.

The sticker story book will be piloted in libraries in Bridport, Dorchester, Corfe Mullen, Ferndown, Highcliffe, Littlemoor, Portland, Tophill, Swanage, West Moors and Wimborne.

For more information about opening hours visit www.dorsetforyou.com/libraries

The group, which supports the hospital through equipment and items that help patients' comfort during their stay, raised £183.30 during their fundraising coffee morning at Bridport United Church earlier this month.

Heather Purse, a member of the league of friends, said: "We were very happy with the number of people who came to support us on a wet and windy day.

"The Bridport Community Hospital League of Friends raised £183.30 for our funds.

"We sold bric-a-brac and cakes and had a very exceptional tombola thanks to a number of well wishers who donated the prizes.

"Our next main event will be a hospital fete on Saturday, October 1st to mark the 20th anniversary of the official opening of the hospital at its current site.

"We hope to make it a full day event with a car boot sale in the morning from 10am to 12noon, followed by opening the hospital for the fete at 2pm.

"We are hoping to have a new display of community art work along the hospital corridors.

"If any group of individuals would like to be part of this event, especially the entertainment of our visitors, the committee would be happy to hear from you. Email tlofbh@gmail.com."

Dorchester Hearing Centre

How's your hearing

CURRENTLY one in six people in the UK – an estimated 10 million people – have some form of hearing loss. Local Specialists, The Dorchester Hearing Centre have been raising awareness and understanding of the issues surrounding hearing for over 50 years now.

Jonathan Ormerod, hearing aid audiologist, and his team at the Centre are proud to be promoting this important healthcare issue. 'Most people will go and see a dentist or an optician, but don't think about their hearing in the same way. We are encouraging people to come and have a free hearing test.'

He continues, 'Often people think if they had a hearing impairment they would know. However, hearing loss happens gradually and the signs are subtle. Our ability to adapt to those small changes makes it difficult to accurately self-diagnose and other people may notice it first. It is easy to blame others for not speaking clearly or mumbling. But undiagnosed hearing loss can cause frustration and withdrawal, often placing an undue strain on relationships.'

'Patients are often surprised when I show them hearing aids. They remember their granny wearing a 'large beige banana' behind her ear. Advances in technology have made hearing aids remarkably discreet. There are even hearing aids now that you can control with your mobile phone.'

If you think your hearing is not what it once was or you know someone who does not hear so well, the Dorchester Hearing Centre are offering free initial consultations and hearing tests.

Call them on 01305 260153 to book your priority appointment.

AFTER 36 years on Princes Street the long established health food shop Down to Earth made a move to the more central location at 19 Trinity Street last year. The new location has been favourably received by customers old and new. It offers a brighter more cohesive space with the benefit of being yards away from Trinity street carpark, bus stops, taxi offices, bicycle racks and offers easy pedestrian access from South Street via New street.

'Let food be your medicine' wrote Hippocrates and this underlines our approach. The first thing you see in the shop is our food shelves packed with loose wholefoods. Whether you are looking for a few grams of herbs and spices or a bulk buy of every day basics – oats, flour, grains etc., a branded product to support a dietary need or an unusual ingredient for a specific recipe the stock range is extensive. Purchases are competitively priced, as in most cases you buy only what you need. With the environment in mind we offer refills on some products like cider vinegar and peanut butter and are able to fill into your food containers to cut down on packaging. When a product is unavailable orders can be made, for bulk buys a discount is added. We also have a weekly delivery of organic fruit and vegetables.

With the home in mind we are Ecover stockists with a refill station of many of their products. Our range of body care and supplements for your wellbeing is an area of expansion.

Police Dog Hogan are back in Bridport

WITH eight members in the full line-up and instruments including guitar, accordion, banjo, mandolin, fiddle and trumpet, Police Dog Hogan draw their influences from many different wells. You could call it Americana, country-folk, folk-pop or even urban bluegrass, but it's difficult to do justice to the sheer range of styles this band is willing to take on and, if necessary, transform.

Their live shows are exuberant, accomplished, stirring and funny, mixing country-fried heartbreakers, belting anthems and foot-stomping singlaongs. They've been a firm favourite on the festival circuit since forming in 2009, and have been playing to sell-out crowds across the country inthe past year.

Police Dog Hogan

With their third album, Westward Ho!, (produced by Oysterband's Al Scott) now released on the Union Music Store label, Police Dog Hogan look set for big things. Featuring the classy Guardian columnist Tim Dowling on banjo!

Destiny Calling

Justin Moorhouse brings brand new show to Bridport Arts Centre

COMEDIAN Justin Moorhouse is back on the road and stopping off at Bridport Arts Centre with his brand new stand-up show for 2016 "Destiny Calling".

Hitting 45 and coincidentally matching his waist measurement Justin has taken a log hard look at his life. He reckons he's hit half way, he's reached the peak of the roller coaster and whats next? Do we give up and let the ride take us to where it's going to take us? Or do we grab hold of the rail and enjoy the thrilling descent?

2015 was a busy year for Justin reprising the tiger faced Young Kenny for the record breaking run of Phoenix Nights Live at the Manchester Arena which raised over £5m for Comic Relief. He also wowed the nation with tales of Australia and Manchester on Live at the Apollo (BBC1) during this last series after previously appearing several times on The Comedy Store (Comedy Central), Dave's One Night Stand (Dave) and Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow (BBC1). He has written and starred in two series of Everyone Quite Likes Justin (BBC Radio 4) as well as helming his own podcast About 30 Minutes, No More Than 45. Perhaps most impressively, he was winner of Celebrity Mastermind with Les Dawson as his specialist subject!

The show received rave reviews at the Edinburgh Festival and he 'charms the pants off the crowd" according to the Sunday Times. It promises to be great night, full of plenty of laughter. Justin Moorehouse performs at the Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, February 20th at 8pm. Tickets are £14/£12, available by calling 01308 424204 or visit www.bridport-arts.com

Hear the crackle at Vinyl Saturday

CLOCKTOWER Music in Bridport's Art & Vintage Quarter, organisers of Bridport's nationally-famous 'Vinyl Saturday', are looking forward to their first event of 2016 on Saturday, February 20th.

The quarterly Record, CD & Music event, which features a Record and CD Fair plus the opportunity for the town's shops and Saturday market stalls to take part by offering records and music items for sale on the day, attracts many visitors from around the UK and Europe to Bridport.

Bridport's Vinyl Saturday is historically viewed as one of the kick-starters of the revival in vinyl records in 2008, along with the introduction in the UK of Record Store Day and followed in 2009 by the book Last Shop Standing, which also became a film.

Initially Vinyl Saturday's aim was to create interest in records again and to encourage as many outlets as possible in the town to offer vinyl records for sale. In 2007, when the event was originally conceived, vinyl records were considered a dying medium for playing music.

However, one of the owners of Clocktower Music thought differently, recognising that there was an opportunity for Bridport to attract visitors by promoting the advantages and joys of owning and playing vinyl records. This has worked very well for Bridport and in this small town there are now around 15 places to search for records all year round – plus Saturday's market days see even more opportunity. The resurgence of records in recent years has made Bridport one of the vinyl hotspots for buyers outside of major cities. The event's importance was recognised early on by being voted Record Fair of the Year across Europe by Record Collector magazine

The next event is on Saturday, February 20th, 10am to 4pm, admission £1 (or free with the adjacent advert), at the United Church, East St, Bridport, Dorset DT6 3LJ.

Space is the place at Camp Bestival

THE INTREPID Camp Bestival crew have been travelling through the universe in search of the very best space-based entertainment to thrill and enthral one and all when the festival heads in to Outer Space this July, 28th-31st, at Lulworth Castle. Organisers are delighted to reveal a host of astronomical entertainment joining Fatboy Slim, Tears for Fears, Jess Glynne, Aliens Love Underpants, Dick and Dom, Mr Tumble and more, as we journey to the stars…

Exclusive to Camp Bestival, the Royal Albert Hall's resident Education & Outreach orchestra, Albert's Band, will take you on a musical journey to a galaxy far, far away with their Space Symphony. This promises to be the perfect family friendly introduction to some of the most famous and recognised pieces of classical music in the universe, so don't miss it!

The brand new space-tastic Mission Control tent will play host to a wondrous selection of celestial thrills including the award winning National Space Centre team who will be on hand presenting exciting challenges and intriguing facts to inspire all at Space Camp Lulworth, and you'll get the chance to win a National Space Centre family pass, too. You can witness science experiments, learn about the universe and join a mission to Mars with The Science Museum. Plus, The UK Space Agency will be taking a leaf out of Tim Peake's exercise programme with some space-themed fitness and health activities. And don't miss the Space to Earth Challenge a special space-themed walk around Camp Bestival, where fancy dress is positively encouraged!

You can quiz the stargazing experts from the Royal Observatory Greenwich, and be inspired by Explorer Dome presents 'The Wonder of Space', a family-friendly show produced exclusively for Camp Bestival. Featuring rocket workshops and chemistry shows with freezing fog, fire, flashes and big bangs, you can explore space, stars, life on other worlds, the ultimate fate of our sun, and the sky tonight, with added cosmology for the curious and the chance to ask questions about our place in the universe.

For the full list of newly announced space themed goings-on, and for more details and tickets, visit www.campbestival.net.

George Egg, The Anarchist Cook, whips up a night to remember

George Egg

IF YOU like cooking and comedy then you'll love this. Following multiple sell-out shows at the Edinburgh and Brighton Fringe Festivals last year, Dorchester Arts welcomes George Egg, the much-celebrated anarchist cook to the Corn Exchange on Friday, February 19th.

Internationally acclaimed comedian George Egg is a rather fanatical self-taught cook with a somewhat anarchic approach to making meals. As obsessed with culinary matters as he is with comedic ones, and finding himself dissatisfied with the quality and cost of take-aways and room-service meals while touring the stand-up comedy clubs of the world, George embarks on a project to take matters into his own surprisingly capable hands.

Whilst performing a mind-bendingly original show of comedy-come-illustrated-lecture George prepares a three-course meal on the equipment hotels unwittingly provide (iron, kettle, trouser press) , and if you want to, you can even taste the delights created it at the end.

Wildly brandishing the worlds' second largest briefcase containing a battery of ridiculous props, George bounds onto the stage to perform one of the most original, interesting, innovative, and sweetly whimsical comedy performances you are ever likely to see. George Egg has been a professional stand-up comedian for the last two decades. He has an extremely successful solo show with which he has toured across the UK and Europe, both onstage and television, and more recently he has been the support act for Lee Mack, Mickey Flannagan and Jack Dee.

George Egg: Anarchist Cook at Dorchester Arts, The Corn Exchange Friday, February 19th, 8pm. For more details or to book call 01305 266926 or visit the website at www.dorchesterarts.org.uk

Out of Chaos comes Two Man Macbeth

OUT OF CHAOS (formerly Temple Theatre), the Birmingham-based touring company who've won awards and filled theatres around the world since 2008, are returning to their roots. After original shows exploring Greek and Norse myths the company are taking on Shakespeare for the first time, but there won't be anything traditional about their take on Macbeth.

Two actors will take on more than 20 roles, in a physically spellbinding production that brings to life the electric drama, beautiful poetry and playful comedy of the original. And all in just 80 minutes.

Two multi-award winning actors take on this colossal challenge. Paul O'Mahony has performed Shakespeare around the world with many companies, including the RSC. Troels Hagen Findsen is a Danish actor based in Copenhagen, who won three awards at Birmingham's BE Festival, and performed alongside Paul in all Out of Chaos' previous productions. The production is directed by Mike Tweddle, director of all Out of Chaos' productions to date and formerly an assistant director at The Globe.

Macbeth will be performed at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Wednesday, February 24th at 1.30pm and 6.30pm. Tickets are £10 and £8 (concessions). Theatre-Friends discount available.

Earth-shattering anthems from the titans of rock!

THE second event for 2016 at Winstons Bar & Grill in Seaton will be on Saturday, February 20th - the one and only 'Hellrazor'. For the uninitiated these are the Hells Bells boys as their alter ego playing the best in classic rock from Purple, Zeppelin and Sabbath to the current era with the likes of Queen of the Stone Age, Guns and Roses, Alterbridge and Metallica among many others.

Lead singer Lee explained: "due to the AC/DC commitments we have little chance to do this, probably four or five times a year, but we had such a blast last year at Winstons we decided this was one of the few venues that we were going to put this show on".

Expect nothing more than an explosive show and with tickets selling fast this looks like being another sell out!

Tickets are £10 in advance, £13 on the night and are available from Winstons, Beer Village Stores and Axe Music in Axminster.

As well as their website and Lemonrock page, Winstons also have a full list of events on a sheet which can be picked up from the bar.

FOUR BEDROOM COTTAGE, ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF STOKE ABBOTT - £625,000

JEREMY Smith, Regional Manager of Symonds & Sampson in Beaminster, is delighted to have been chosen to market a beautiful cottage which lies on the outskirts of Stoke Abbott, being one of the area's most desirable villages. Jeremy commented 'we believe this property was built circa 1867 and was historically two farm works cottages. The property was then converted into one property in 1956 whilst our vendor added a superb extension to the rear in 2004".

The property itself is beautifully presented and surely enjoys one of the finest views in West Dorset and on a good day you can actually see the sea!

We would advise early viewing of this property which is arranged in more detail over two floors as follows:- Porch, large kitchen/dining room with AGA, good size sitting room with inglenook fireplace, inner kitchen, inner hallway with bathroom off, access to the large utility/workroom. On the first floor is a landing with a cloakroom and a good size study area, a fine triple aspect living room with twin opening doors to the veranda which enjoys fantastic country views, four bedrooms and second bathroom.

There are good size gardens to the rear and side whilst there is parking which in turn leads to a garage with electric up and over door, whilst not a double garage this garage would fit two small cars. Further along the lane is more parking which lies alongside the old stone shed.

Jeremy added "our vendor is very motivated and whilst the asking price is £625,000 for the freehold, serious offers will be considered".

Please call us for more details or to book a viewing on 01308 863100.

The diesel future begins in the Mercedes-Benz E-Class

THE new four-cylinder diesel unit OM 654 marks the debut of a ground-breaking family of engines from Mercedes-Benz. Exemplary efficiency and emissions ensure that the premium diesel is future-proof while underlining the key role to be played by the diesel engine in achieving the challenging global climate targets. The first all-aluminium four-cylinder diesel engine from Mercedes-Benz celebrates its world premiere in the new E-Class E 220 d in spring 2016.

"The new family of engines embodies over 80 years of Mercedes-Benz diesel know-how. The new premium diesels are more efficient and powerful, lighter and more compact - and they are designed to meet all future global emissions standards," says Prof. Dr. Thomas Weber, member of the Daimler Board of Management with responsibility for Group Research and Head of Mercedes-Benz Cars Development. "In our opinion, the diesel engine is indispensable in trucks and cars if we want to further reduce the CO2 emissions from traffic."

In its road map towards sustainable mobility, Mercedes-Benz attaches key importance to the optimisation of modern internal combustion engines alongside hybrid and electric vehicles. In particular, the economical, clean and, especially in Europe, highly popular diesel engine makes an important contribution to the further reduction of fleet consumption.

Mercedes-Benz is on the right track. In the two decades since 1995, the average consumption of the passenger car fleet has fallen by almost half from 9.2 l/100 km (230 g CO2 /km) to 5.0 l/100 km (125 g CO2/km). Already today, Mercedes-Benz Cars has 68 models that emit less than 120 g/km – and 108 models with the efficiency label A+ or A.

The modular family of engines will find broad application across the entire range of Mercedes-Benz cars and vans. There are plans for several output variants as well as longitudinal and transverse installation in vehicles with front-, rear- and all-wheel drive. This, too, makes the new engine so significant, because the improvements in efficiency have a direct impact on Mercedes-Benz's fleet consumption.

Another of the objectives behind the new generation of engines was to reduce the number of variants as far as possible. The engine's compact dimensions allow even more flexibility in adapting to different vehicle models. The interfaces between drive unit and vehicle have been standardised across all model series. More especially, all the elements of the exhaust aftertreatment system are now configured directly on the engine itself and no longer on the vehicle.

The new four-cylinder engine OM 654 is celebrating its world premiere as the 220 d in the new E-Class in spring 2016. The bottom line is that the new engine delivers around 13 percent lower fuel consumption and CO2 emissions along with a further increase in output (143 kW instead of 125 kW).

The most important innovations of the new engine:

- First all-aluminium construction of a four-cylinder diesel engine
- Steel pistons with stepped combustion bowls, NANOSLIDE® cylinder coating, fourth-generation common rail injection
- All exhaust treatment technologies configured directly on the engine
- Significantly lighter and more compact: 168.4 kg vs. 202.8 kg (-17%), two-litre displacement instead of 2.15 litres, cylinder spacing 90 mm vs. 94 mm
- Lower noise level and outstanding vibration comfort thanks to a raft of measures

Renault's celebratory 'Van Month' launches with unprecedented offers

▲ Peugeot introduces the best-performing Non-Hybrid Car

RENAULT is celebrating its 18th consecutive year as Europe's number one van manufacturer with 'Renault Van Month' – a special promotion that makes the best-selling models in the manufacturer's award-winning LCV line-up more attractive and affordable than ever before.

Running until 31st March, Renault Van Month includes unprecedented Contract Hire rentals on selected Trafic and Master models. In addition, business users' operational costs are lowered further still with the availability of enhanced two-year/24,000 mile Renault Service Plans on all eligible vehicles included in the offers, providing savings of up to 25 per cent.

Recently voted 'Best Medium Van' for the second consecutive year at the What Van? Awards 2016, the Trafic Panel Van is available to business users for as little as £174.95 per month through Renault Van Month's value-enhancing 6+23 Contract Hire rentals. Six different Contract Hire rental Trafic offers are available, all of which are based on the popular short wheelbase, low-roof format and encompass the well-equipped Business, innovative Business+, and stylish Sport levels of trim. The Renault Trafic is powered by a choice of efficient turbodiesel engines.

For a low monthly payment of only £149.95 on a 6+23 Contract Hire rental, the Renault Trafic nine-seat Passenger version is ideal for business users who have a need to transport passengers in style and comfort. This offer applies to the short wheelbase, low-roof version in Business specification, which is powered by the fully Euro 6-compliant dCi ENERGY 95 turbodiesel engine.

If customers require even more space, then Renault Van Month offers a fantastic 6+23 Contract Hire rental on the immensely versatile Master Panel Van. Business users need only pay £199.95 per month to benefit from the many attributes of the front-wheel drive, medium wheelbase, medium-roof Master Panel Van that comes in Business specification and is powered by the dCi 110 turbodiesel engine.

Business users can complement their choice of offer with a corresponding two-year/24,000 mile Renault Service Plan that provides even greater value than before. For example, customers who take up the Renault Van Month Contract Hire rental offer on the short wheelbase, low-roof Trafic dCi 115 Business can enjoy the reassurance of Renault's Service Plan for £163.95 compared to the original cost of £219.

In addition, recent customers of the eligible vehicles can also take advantage of the reduced rate Service Plans, as long as the plan is registered within 12 months of first registration or before the first service has been completed.

Whichever offer business users choose through Renault Van Month they will benefit from the Renault 4+ warranty and Renault Assistance scheme which provides the ultimate peace of mind for four years or 100,000 miles3. They will also enjoy the reassurance of the Renault Business Quality Commitment – Renault's 13-point plan that guarantees customers will receive a class-leading experience. Designed to keep customers moving no matter what and deliver hassle-free business motoring, the plan covers everything from an impressive warranty and transparent pricing to the availability of courtesy vehicles and a dedicated customer hotline.

Renault's UK van sales reached their highest ever level in 2015 to 25,458 vehicles – up 40 per cent compared to 2014 and significantly outpaced the UK van market which grew by 16 per cent.

The strong UK result contributed to Renault being the best-selling LCV brand in Europe for the 18th consecutive year. In a market that was up 11.4 per cent, Renault's European LCV sales rose to 16.9 per cent.

Eagle E-Typess announce the shape of things to come - the Eagle Spyder GT

EAGLE has focused for over thirty years to refine, develop and deliver exceptional engineering for the Jaguar E-Type while remaining true to the spirit of this extraordinary car.

The Eagle E-Type has often been described as 'the finest hand-built car in the world' and the reaction of the world's press to the successive 'special edition' Jaguar E-Types developed in-house at Eagle has been rapturous.

Leading the way was the Eagle Speedster, which was developed from a client request and then feted around the world. It has been the subject of countless magazine features and covers, articles in national newspapers and also starred on Top Gear in 2011 where Jeremy Clarkson described it thus:

"I think this, by a long way, is the most beautiful car I have ever seen. It might actually be the most beautiful thing I have ever seen."

The Eagle Low Drag GT - inspired by Malcolm Sayer's exquisite Low Drag Coupe developed for Jaguar in 1961 - followed soon after. International press coverage and ecstatic reviews again followed, culminating with a feature on BBC's Top Gear in 2015.

Chris Evans described the reactions of onlookers in a national newspaper feature as follows:

"It doesn't so much turn heads as threaten to snap them clean off the necks of their owners."

Now these two exceptional E-Types are joined by the third in the trilogy - the Eagle Spyder GT.

With the poise and performance of the Low Drag GT and the exquisite styling of the Speedster, the Spyder GT' s raked windscreen and folding roof offer the best of both worlds – whatever the weather.

An exotic all-aluminium E-Type lightweight roadster based around an original 1960' s classic, every line and detail is honed to perfection and performance is greatly enhanced. Each of the very few produced will have an entirely bespoke specification dependent of the specific desires of each client.

Paul Brace, Design Director at Eagle comments:

"Development of the Spyder GT began soon after the launch of the Speedster in 2011 and, like everything we produce, we wanted to ensure that we got as close to perfection as humanly possible.

"We're renowned for being perfectionists and our clients are too - so we took the time to develop and deliver an E-Type that stands proud alongside the Speedster and the Low Drag GT."

Henry Pearman, Eagle Founder & MD comments:

"Like many, my love of the E-Type set hold at a very young age and has become a lifetime's dedication. The team here at Eagle have taken this love of E-Types to a new dimension by creating the ultimate trilogy of special edition E-Types - complementing the beautiful originals that form the backbone here at Eagle.

"I am incredibly proud of what we have achieved together over the last thirty years - and excited about what we'll do in the future!"

The first Eagle Spyder GT will be presented to the commissioning customer during the Summer of 2016.

Local football round-up WITH HOWARD LARCOMBE

@howardlarcombe

And so it goes on! more disruption

MORE rain, more mud, more postponements – the wet winter caused more disruption on an already heavily disjointed season with teams no steeling themselves for a host of late season mid-week fixtures.

A handful of matches survived, I covered the Division Two clash between Thorncombe Reserves and Chard United Reserves which, with Lightgate Lane waterlogged , was switched to the 3G pitch at Axe Valley Community College in Axminster.

THORNCOMBE RES 0 CHARD UNITED RES 4

A JAMIE BROWN hat-trick was the highlight of this Division Two clash played out on the impressive 3G pitch at Axe Valley.

Thorncombe came into the game short on numbers and with a patched up side with the club's first team also in action at Wadham School.

And when Dan Harvey crossed for Brown to give Chard the lead in the fifth minute the writing was on the wall.

Brown went close soon after with a 20-yarder only to be denied by a fine parry by Thorn's keeper Andrew Sochon.

At the other end Gary Parsley, now back as the team's player-manager having relinquished the first team manager's role, picked out Kuda Tobiawa who drilled a low shot just wide.

But they went 2-0 down midway through the half when the lofty Brown got on the end of another right wing cross and stooped to score with a low header.

But the best was yet to come. In the 33rd minute the team move of the match was rounded off in style when Brown showed good composure to slot the ball across Sochon and into the far corner from 15 yards.

He should have had a fourth soon after but mis-kicked when well placed in front of a gaping net.

The scoring was completed four minutes into the second half when Harvey, who vied with Brown as Man-of-the-Match, swivelled well and fired home a crisp left footer on the half-turn.

Lee Hutchings, normally a goalkeeper, but pressed into service up front for Thorncombe, dragged a chance wide on the hour but the bulk of the second-half chances went to Chard.

But a combination of poor finishing, combined with some dogged defending, and good keeping from Sochon meant there was no addition to the score.

The three points leave Chard in eighth spot in the Division two table while Thorncombe, having lost 12 league games on the trot, remain seven points adrift at the foot of the table.

JACK VENN CUP QF

WINSHAM UTD RES 0 SOUTH PETH RES 4

THE South Petherton second-string had few problems booking a place in the semi-finals as they cruised past Winsham Utd Reserves on the Bucklers Mead 3G pitch in Yeovil.

Jimmy Rees' 22nd goal of the season had Pethy deservedly with their noses in front at the interval.

Gordy Childs' side went up through the gears after the break and a double from Dan Kadir made the game safe before Tim John rounded things off with the fourth.

Childs was pleased with his team's performance: "We played really well and dominated for large periods using the full width of the pitch."

Childs felt his midfield trio of Jack White, Mark Nelms and Kameron Andrews held the key to the victory.

Pethy are now clear favourites to lift the 55-year-old trophy for the first time in their history.

DIVISION ONE

CREWKERNE RANGERS 2 THORNCOMBE 2

THE BOTTOM of the table clash at Wadham School ended honours even and the points were shared.

The hosts thought they had taken the lead early on when player-manager Scott Isaacs found the net only to have his effort ruled out for offside.

Steve Bryant also went close with a shot that came back off the woodwork but the first half ended goal less.

Rangers took control after the turnaround and appeared on course for a welcome three point haul when Bryant and Isaacs made it 2-0 with 25 minutes remaining.

But the Thorns had other ideas. Craig Tovey halved the deficit with a deflected shot before Joe Himmer netted the equaliser.

Isaacs felt his side had thrown away two points: "It feels like a loss. We were comfortable for 70 minutes but 2-0 doesn't mean a lot at this level and once they got one back the pressure was on."

DIVISION TWO

MERRIOTT ROVERS 1 FARWAY UTD 4

THE notoriously sodden Eastlee Park Grond has meant Farway United have lead a nomadic existence playing only away matches since the beginning of October.

But the improving Devonians have built up a head of steam since mid-December, and have now won four on the spin to move up in to top six with a return to Division One a real possibility.

After an even tussle with hosts Merriott, a late double from Tom Olive clinched the win and completed a first ever senior hat-trick for the youngster.

Earlier, strikes from Olive and top-scorer Jack Murral had give Farway a 2-1 lead with Rob Stubbins replying for the hosts.

The result brings an end to Merriott's 13-game unbeaten home league record which stretched back 18 months since they re-entered the league.

DIVISION THREE

HALSTOCK 1 PERRY STREET RESERVES 2

A LATE strike from Rory Gillard kept Perry Street Reserves firmly in contention for the Division Three title as hosts Halstcock tasted defeat in the league for the first time since their reformation in the summer.

All looked good for Halstock when top-scorer Mark Whitmarsh pounced on a rebound to open the scoring in the fourth minute.

But the Mothers were level soon afterwards when Joe Allen fired in from just outside the box following a corner.

The remainder of the match continued in entertaining end-to-end fashion with Street stand-in keeper Owen Richardson pulling off one tremendous save.

But with time running out Gillard converted after a goalmouth scramble to bank all three points and close the gap on leaders Dowlish & Donyatt.

Street manager Rich Rowson picked out defender Matt Hill as his top performer, while watching first team manager Andy Bond was impressed by striker Kev Rowson who 'rolled back the years'.

Pre-season cricket news

Exciting season ahead for Uplyme & Lyme Regis

UPLYME & LYME REGIS Cricket Club are busy preparing for the new season and hoping to build on the successes of 2015 when the 1st XI just missed out on promotion to B Division and were runners up for the second year running in the Corinthian Cup.

The 2nd XI established themselves in C Division of the Devon League and there was also a revival of the Junior Section with a young U11 side competing in the West Dorset Junior League.

Under the guidance of new chairman Derek Wellman the committee has identified areas in which they want to move forward, not least in securing a lease of tenure for the ground.

This is to be discussed with the trustees of the King George VI Playing Fields at the next meeting. They will endeavour to maintain the field for the use of the community and the club, and to maintain and improve the facilities in and around the pavilion.

Financially the club is stable but running costs continue to rise and the committee is working hard to secure sponsorship of match kit, fixtures and match balls.

The following sponsorship packages are on offer;

Package 1 – Match ball sponsorship (£30); Company name on board for home matches, two complimentary teas on day of your sponsorship, two complimentary social memberships for the season, Logo in members handbook, logo and link on club website.

Package 2 – Fixture card sponsorship (£50); logo and company information displayed all season at UPLRCC and other establishments that display our fixture card, two complimentary teas on day of your choice, two complimentary social memberships for the season, advertisement in members handbook, Logo and link on club website.

Package 3 – Main club and shirt sponsor raffle ticket (£50); the winner will be drawn four weeks before beginning of the season, company logo to appear on all kit, logo on club website homepage, meet and greet players and have your photo taken with the President and chairman (free printed team photo), logo and company information displayed all season at UPLRCC and other establishments that display our fixture card, two complimentary teas on day of your choice, two complimentary social memberships for the season, advertisement in members handbook, Logo and link on club website.

Package 4 – all three above deals for £100.

If any business would like to sponsor the club in any way Chairman Derek Wellman is more than happy to discuss ways in which help can be provided.

On the playing side dates have been fixed for indoor pre-season nets to be held at the Woodroffe School Sports Hall on Wednesday, April 6th from 5.30 to 7pm and again on Wednesday, April 13th from 6 to 7.30 pm.

Nets will then follow every Wednesday at the ground from 6pm. All players are urged to attend and any new members will be made most welcome.

A full Saturday league fixture list is in place with the 1st XI also hoping to make it third time lucky in a Corinthian Cup campaign, the final of which will be hosted by the club on Sunday, August 7th.

The team will be strengthened by the return of two Aussies with English passports, Nick Dinnison and Charlie Warner. All-rounder Jeremy Quinn, who will be the official overseas player for the club this season will accompany them.

This maintains the link with the Deepdene Cricket Club in Balwyn, Victoria. The club hopes Jeremy will have a successful and enjoyable summer of cricket.

To have such experienced players will be of benefit to the strong nucleus of young players who have come through in recent years. It is hoped that Woodroffe students, Alfie Jacques, Ollie Lee, Greg Davies and Tyler Wellman will continue to go from strength to strength.

With experienced players such as Adam Caddy, Jedd Whittington, Mark Batey and Alex Richards all available, captain Steve Batey will have a good squad to pick from.

Training for the junior section will get underway on Wednesday, February 24th. Net sessions will take place at the Woodroffe School Sports hall from 4 – 5.30pm.

The Under 11 players from last season are invited to attend along with any other students in years 6, 7 and 8 who would like to play for the U11s on Monday nights or the U13s on Thursday nights in the West Dorset Leagues which gets underway in the week beginning April 18th.

ECB coach Eddie Clarke will also be running a 'Chance to Shine' project in local primary schools to introduce the game. This culminates in the annual schools Kwik Cricket tournament at the ground on Wednesday, May 25th.

◆ UP FOR GRABS: ULRCC chairman Derek Wellman with a club match shirt which is available for sponsorship

The scheme aims to encourage more youngsters to come down to Uplyme for Saturday morning sessions and get involved with the under 11s when the season starts.

West Dorset Schools Cross Country Championships

Symondsbury girls skip through mud

◆ WINNING FORM: Symondsbury's Anise wins the girls race

DESPITE atrocious conditions underfoot, Symondsbury girls made light of the boggy ground to race home to victory in the second round of the West Dorset Primary School Cross Country Championships held at Beaminster School last week.

Although it made the race a tougher prospect, the runners thought the mud only added to the fun which saw a repeat of the overall and individual results of the first race at Colfox last month.

Owen from Salway Ash won the boy's race and Symondsbury's Anise the girls, with Parrett & Axe the overall boy's winners and Symondsbury girls A also once again victorious.

Symondsbury also took the girls B race with St Catherine's winning the boys.

The third and final event is a relay competition, with two boys and two girls per team to be held at the The Sir John Colfox Academy on Wednesday, March 16th.

◆ AT THE DOUBLE: Owen from Salway Ash strides home to complete the double in winning the boys race

Bridport Squash & Racketball Club

Runaway leaders live up to top-billing

Bridport 2nd 10
David Lloyd
Ringwood 15

RUNAWAY leaders David Lloyd Ringwood were made to fight all the way by a valiant performance by Bridport 2nd team, who with a little bit more luck at critical stages of the contest might have recorded a superb victory writes Roger Lewis.

Bridport's Steve Hodder at one was up against former Dorset Premier League player Tony Down whose higher league experience shone through as he made Hodder work hard to stay in the match.

Credit must be given to Hodder because he never gave up and the shots that he did win were tight and exact, but it was inevitable that Down would take the match as he powered through to win 9-5, 9-4, 9-2.

Tim Parkman at two was made to think all the time in his match against a very good squash player in Paul Martin.

The tactical play by Parkman was to keep the rallies going and when in the right position he played the occasional drop shot.

This strategy proved successful because it tired Martin out and consequently faults developed in his game which Parkman capitalised on, and he went to record a brilliant victory 9-7, 9-6, 9-8.

John Mills started very strongly in his number three match against a dogged Nick Aubin, and having taken the first two games fairly easily, was looking for victory. However Aubin had different ideas as he began to chip away at Mills game.

Indeed once he had enticed Mills into making too many boast shots, the pendulum swung to Aubin as he managed to counter attack the boast and turned possible defeat into victory by a 5-9, 4-9, 9-2, 9-2, 9-5 margin.

Another Bridport player to take the first two games was number four player Paul Cross in his match against Dave Robb.

But this stamina sapping effort took a lot out of him, and once Robb was allowed to get into his game, his tight drives coupled with the odd boast shot really took it out of Cross who eventually tired, with Robb eventually going through by a 1-9, 0-9, 9-5, 9-3, 9-2 score.

Rob Muir playing at five was really on form in his match against Jeremy Donabie.

Muir decided to play the simple game, hitting the ball up and down the walls and then capitalising on Donabie's mistake, and apart from the third game, Muir was in control as he went on to take the match 9-4, 10-8, 1-9, 9-1 score.

Weymouth & District Table Tennis Club

Impressive double for Springfield ace Babler

WESTFIELD Arts College was again the venue for the annual Weymouth & District Table Tennis tournament hosted by the Preston Club for the fifth year running.

Around 50 players from all three divisions took part in the event, which contained nine different competitions, the main one being the Open Handicap.

Involving players from all divisions the evening produced some excellent contests, none more so than Lily Cherry against Tom Cherry who won that match.

However, the eventual winner was Richard Wood, from the Steps M team in Division Three, who played some great shots throughout the different rounds.

The Division One singles was hotly fought out with the final being a duel between Thomas Babler (Springfield A) and John Ryan (Park District).

Ryan's best efforts he went down 3-0 to some superb play by Babler who completed the double, when with Craig Stenton they beat Ryan and Sai maganti in the Division One doubles.

The final of each contest was as follows:
Division One Singles: Thomas Babler (Springfield A) beat John Ryan (Park District)
Division One Doubles: Thomas Babler & Craig Stenton (Springfield A) beat John Ryan & Sai Maganti (Wyke A)
Division Two Singles: Ben Hannigan (All Saints) beat Derrick Shilliday (Preston).
Division Two Doubles: Eddie Chapman (Preston C) & Derrick Shilliday (Preston A) beat Stan Smith & Roger Lovell (Preston C).

The club's annual presentation evening was held at the Cobb Arms last Saturdaywhen it was reported that: "2015 had been another successful year with eight shore and three boat club records being broken.

West Dorset Hawks Hockey

Hard fought victory keeps Hawks all but safe

West Dorset Hawks 2
ISCA C 0

ALTHOUGH there are still four games to go, this victory just about secured West Dorset's Southern Two place for next season.

With four teams relegated from a league of only twelve, points are vital.

Having lost five of their first six games this season, things looked bleak for the Hawks, but nine wins and just two defeats in their last 12 matches had seen them rise to sixth place, but with only five points separating them from 10th placed ISCA before play, a win was vital.

They went into the game without two of their most consistent players this season, ace striker Steve Mearing and the experienced Gavin Brooking, neither of whom had recovered from injuries they suffered at the hands of a robust Penzance the week before.

Captain Robin Goodfellow was back from holiday and striker Dan Wyatt was restored to the first team following a spell out.

In truth Hawks were fortunate to win the encounter as ISCA who had several veteran GB and England players in their ranks controlled most of the game, and but for some stout defending and a great display from keeper Tom Lowe, they might have left empty handed.

Hawks were not at the races early on and could not get their act together as ISCA relentlessly attacked, and they forced a number of short corners but fortunately could not convert them, and it was therefore against the run of play that West Dorset took the lead, although it was a brilliantly taken goal.

Russell Coombs won a tackle and found Dan Wyatt who eventually hit a superb 50 yard defence splitting pass to Coombs in the top of the D who cut in and shot first time.

The Exeter keeper, a former GB international produced a fantastic save, but Coombs pounced on the rebound a blasted an equally excellent shot high into the top corner.

This settled the hosts somewhat and they reached the break a goal to the good.

However ISCA stung by the fact they were behind despite their dominance, came out looking to get back on terms, and once more proceeded to apply the pressure, but once again they were caught by the Hawks quick switch from defence to attack.

Julian May played the ball out from the back to Alex Davies on the halfway line who dribbled his way inside the opposing D before being fouled to gain a short corner from which Wyatt smashed into the corner to double their lead.

This finally eased the tension and West Dorset finally found their rhythm, finding room and space and creating a number of chances themselves including three open goals that went begging.

Although ISCA still continued to win short corners their inability to convert them was their downfall, and Hawks held out for an important victory.

West Dorset would like to thank Lee Connolly and Dave Foot for their usual excellent umpiring.

With three of their four remaining games against lower placed sides, this win should have confirmed their survival.

Busy Bees!

by Stuart Broom

THIS winter's bad weather has hit every club badly not only through the lack of games played, but also from a revenue point of view.

Bridport is particularly hard hit as they, along with Gillingham Town, have played the least number of Toolstation Western League Premier Division games.

Four clubs have already played 24 of the 38 matches, but Bridport still have 21 to play including both home and away fixtures against Longwell Green Sports, Cribb, Brislington and Shepton Mallett.

With only 11 Saturdays to go, it means they will be playing two games a week until the end of the season.

They hope to have started cutting the backlog last night (Tuesday) at Shepton Mallett, who have the advantage of having played at Bristol Manor Farm last Saturday.

At the time of going to press, the pitch was deemed playable and the game on.

They then face two further tough away matches at Clevedon Town (Saturday) and Willand Rovers next Tuesday (February 24th).

The reserves also hope to get back to business when they entertain Cranborne in the Dorset Premier League at St Mary's (3pm).

Bridport U16s hoping for third time lucky

◆ THIRD TIME LUCKY? Bridport pictured before their 4-1 semi-final victory over Shaftesbury

BRIDPORT Youth U16's are looking to make history by winning the county cup final after a convincing win over Shaftesbury in the semi-final on Sunday at St Mary's.

Having secured their place in the final for the third time in succession they are hoping that after two defeats by a single goal at U14 and U15 level, they can go on to lift the trophy.

They finally outclassed Shaftesbury winning 4-1, but had to come from a goal down at half-time.

After looking anything but final contenders however they proved the old adage that football is a game of two halves, and proved it with a commanding second half performance from every player.

Rhys Hughes-Williams equalised and Cody Bowditch put them ahead before Riley Weedon's brace made it a comfortable win.

Bridport Youth FC would like to thank all who braved the cold to cheer them on.

You may have heard about the new Inheritance Tax Allowance, but have you read the small print?

The government has announced the introduction of an extra inheritance tax allowance, but when does it start? It only applies on death and is attached to your property. What happens if you have sold your home by the time you die? It will not be available to distant family members, so who will benefit?
